Foster Care and Adoption

What is Presbyterian Children's Homes and Services?

Presbyterian Children's Homes and Services (PCHAS) provides Christ-centered care and support for struggling children and families. For more than 110 years, we've created programs that greatly improve children's lives – enabling their recovery from abuse, abandonment, and neglect. The PCHAS Foster Care program serves children who can no longer remain in their homes and supports families who create a loving and supportive home for them.

Our values are a reflection of God's instruction in Micah 6:8 to "Do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with your God." This model of a faithful life is carried out by our staff through a philosophy of care that is family-centered, strength-focused, and goal-driven. We offer both foster care and foster-to-adopt services.

Why Choose PCHAS Adoption Services?

- Caring, committed and experienced social workers provide a personal touch
- PCHAS offers services to support and encourage families while they are waiting to adopt a child
- PCHAS offers post-adoption services for those seeking assistance
- PCHAS stays connected to other providers, including Texas Department of Family and Protective Services, in order to collaborate to place a child
(This helps reduce waiting time for couples who want to adopt)

Why Choose PCHAS Foster Care Services?

- Multi-disciplinary Foster Care team with 200+ years combined experience
- Refined and efficient licensing process to expedite foster care certification
- Comprehensive training provides foster parents with specific strategies for parenting children who have experienced trauma
- Simple and practical techniques help you have more fun and less stress while you care for your child
- Training informed by Trust-Based Relational Interventions (TBRI) to help heal the wounds caused by trauma that most foster children have suffered
